Q: Will the new residence hall have food service built in?

A: No. There will be no food service operated from the new residence hall. The new residence hall is planned to have a shared kitchen with a refrigerator and stove similar to our other halls and the suite-style units will have kitchenettes with refrigerators and microwaves. Students living in the new residence hall will be required to have a meal plan the same way that students living in other halls are required to have meal plans.

Q: Will there be any changes to the living on-campus requirement given the plans for the new residence hall?

A: No. There are no plans to change the current living on-campus requirement.

Q: Are the shelving fixtures in the Cat's Corner server Wayne State College property?

A: Yes.

Q: What is the typical attendance at home football games?

A: Generally between 1,800-2,000.
